

NEW-YORKISMS.

That notorious twaddler upon virtue and the nude drama, Olive Logan, has written to the New York Herald a characteristic note, wherein she says she does not object to fair criticism or honest opposition, but that the recent attacks upon her by the New York Citizen and Round Table are the last straw that has broken her camel's back. It was fondly hoped that the letter-writing business had gone out with the departure from New York of Lydia Thompson and her "partner," and it might have been supposed that one so thoroughly posted in expediency as Miss Logan ought to be, would at least know when to keep silent. Two assurances about her may legitimately be admitted, her assurance and her industry. It is these two which have made her name known wherever the Illustrated Western World is read, and the blonde burlesque slang is still spoken. I have never been able fully to understand why the detractors of Miss Logan should object to her preaching virtue. Scandalous journals (like the Citizen and Round Table) are fond of saying, "Physician, heal thyself!" But what reader of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH would object to taking Dr. Panoos's advice because he suspected that physician to be himself suffering from dyspepsia? I have said Miss Logan talks twaddle, but then her twaddle is not vicious. Twaddle never is. When Satan himself preaches morality, as he sometimes does, to serve his turn, he becomes a platitudearian. Still, the very platitudes are piquant, considering the circumstances under which they are uttered; and therefore I hope the virtuous public will continue to read "Letters to Anonymous," by the authoress of "Women and Theatres."

Young Men's Fashions. Some sweet fashions for young men are out. One of these is the low-necked shirt, so long indeed that the shoulder-blades are all but visible, and the Adam's apple is fully revealed nestling in virgin purity amid a brook of linen. The masculine throat has been too long concealed, and among expressions of feminine admiration we may expect this autumn to hear, in addition to "What handsome teeth Mr. So-and-so has got," the corresponding remark, "Yes, my dear, and what a delicious neck!" Shirts-fronts, too, are elaborately embroidered and lined with rose-colored silk. At jewellers', masculine bracelets, inscribed with memorial names and dates, are displayed, and even handkerchief rings, for full-dress occasions. Add to these the Fra Diavolo hat with peacock's plume, checked vest patterns of all possible shades in combination, and patterns for trousers consisting of small squares rainbow in hue, underlying larger ones. Add to these again buttons of pearl, amethyst, and carbuncle, and it will easily be understood that the "male belle is just as "finicky" as the female one about personal adornment. I say nothing of masculine powders and cosmetics, because this is a thing of which nothing is supposed to be known; but I simply put the question whether the creature who sports bracelets and wears a low-necked shirt for the purpose of displaying a snowy bosom—that is, throat, is not equally susceptible to the blishments dormant in rouge vineigre and oxide of bismuth?

Hiring Hair. Let me not conclude the subject of fashion without a word on the practice of hiring out hair. I suppose it is fair to conclude that a similar practice obtains in all large cities; but I learn now for the first time that it is extensively followed here, not only with regard to wigs, but to all the varieties of switches, braids, curls, and other ornaments of the hair. There is a specimen of this practice in the person of a young man who has just arrived from New York, and who is now in the city for the purpose of displaying a snowy bosom—that is, throat, is not equally susceptible to the blishments dormant in rouge vineigre and oxide of bismuth?

Election Caricatures. All Saturday afternoon an immense wagon, surmounted by a revolving framework, with the words, "Democrats! Register, Tuesday, Oct. 12," printed thereon in both German and English, moved along Broadway and the Bowery, and attracted a great deal of attention. The wagon was drawn by four white horses and an enormous bell sent forth thunderous tintinnulations.

Dress of Burlesque-Blondism. were stirred on Saturday before Judge Brady in the Court of Common Pleas. While the L. T. Troupe were performing at Niblo's a brilliant creature named Mack was engaged by Mr. Henderson to localize "Ixon" with witty hits that should be at once metropolitan and mythological, according to the requirements of burlesque. According to Mack, he never got paid for these labors; and according to Henderson, they were entirely too bad to deserve paying for. Here is a specimen: "Hold on, such language ought not to be your role. Arrest me, like young Fisk did Sam Bowles."

An application was made in court to have the piece put on the short calendar, it being sworn that it would not occupy more than an hour on trial. The counsel for the defendant, however, opposed the motion. The case, he said, would occupy at least a quarter of an hour, and the question involved was of a dramatic composition. The Court observed that the composition was of the very poorest order. This was hard, but the additional remark, that it was "too bad even for burlesque," was worse. So the Court refused the order, and the case kept its place on the calendar.

Clerical Gold Gamblers. It is nothing new to say that whatever vice you find practised among the laity you find practised in the pulpit. Gold-gambling is an instance of this. There are plenty of gamblers in this city who understand the gold-gambling as completely as any bull upon Wall street, and who are not deficient in other knowledge necessary to the successful gold-gambler. One of these is understood to be the Rev. Dr. Murray, who, some years ago, invested largely in oil stocks, and became a petroleum prince, of peace. His speculations in preadvertisements were equally successful. The Rev. T. P. Akers, a Methodist minister from the South; the Rev. T. A. Hoyt, the eloquent Presbyterian, and an equally unblemished reputation in this respect. Among the more notorious of these gold-gamblers are the Rev. Dr. Vinton, of Trinity Church; the Rev. Dr. Cuyler, the Rev. S. T. Spear, the Rev. Sydney A. Correy. Each of these gentlemen bears the reputation, among worldly people, of having worshipped the golden calf. After all, it is but a step from the pulpit to the gaming-table, and the Rev. Dr. Vinton, of Trinity Church, and the Rev. Dr. Cuyler, of the Exchange Room, and the service of God and the service of Mammon may be described as just six blocks distant from one another. Gold-gambling clergymen probably console themselves with the fact that their Master went into the Temple, and that in this euphemistic age it would be too demonstrative to make a whip of small cords and overturn the tables of the money-changers. And, besides, there would be too many tables.

ALI BABA. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO the Pioneer Dry Goods Store on West Market street was founded by Messrs R. D. & W. H. Pennell. To-day we chronicle with pleasure the opening of a commodious and handsome store at No. 101 Market street by the same gentlemen. A quarter of a century's devotion to the needs of their patrons; a thorough knowledge of the manufacturing and importing trade, enabling them to buy goods at first hands, thus saving to their customers a handsome percentage; constant attention to the wants of all purchasers, and an acknowledged pre-eminence of dealing that makes their word as good as their bond, have combined to give them a business character above reproach. They now offer to their customers a line of styles equal to any in the market, comprising all grades of Shetland, Shirlings, Linens, Blankets, Flannels, Tickings, Checks, Marseilles and American Quilts, etc. Their stock is well worth an examination.

CITY ITEMS. FALL OVERCOATS.—A fine assortment of these useful and useful garments, better in style than any others ready-made in Philadelphia, at lower prices than the lowest elsewhere. Also, a full stock of all kinds of Men's, Youths', and Boys' CLOTHING, READY-MADE, and of Materials in the best style. To be made to order, comprising many entirely new and choice styles. Samples of Materials sent by mail when desired.

JEWELRY.—Mr. William W. Cassidy, No. 13 South Second street, has the largest and most attractive assortment of fine Jewels and Silversware in the city. Purchasers can rely upon obtaining a real, pure article, furnished at a price which cannot be equalled. He also has a large stock of American Western Watches in all varieties and at all prices. A visit to his store is sure to result in pleasure and profit.

REMOVAL.—STEPHEN F. WHITMAN has removed his CONFECTIONERY AND CHOCOLATE ESTABLISHMENT from No. 1210 Market street, to his new and commodious premises, at the corner of TWELFTH and MARKET STREETS.

THERE IS GOOD AUTHORITY for stating that in this country one adult out of every six dies of Consumption; and, indeed, so prevalent and so fatal has this disease become, that it is dreaded as the great scourge of the race; and yet, in the formative stages, all Pulmonary Complaints may be readily controlled by resorting promptly to the EXPECTORANT OF DR. D. JAYNE, which soothes and strengthens the bronchial tubes, allaying inflammation and cleansing them and the lungs of all impurities. It is a certain remedy for Coughs and Colds, which, when left to themselves, frequently bring on Pulmonary Complaints; and it cures Bronchitis effectually if taken in time, and the directions strictly followed. It has maintained its reputation as a curative for over a quarter of a century, and if those who are threatened with Lung Diseases, or any of the symptoms of Bronchitis or Asthma, will at once give this standard remedy a trial, they will never regret it. Sold everywhere.

THE FALL AND ITS DANGERS.—Animal as well as vegetable life is powerfully affected by the great atmospheric change that takes place in the Fall. But for the flowers, the foliage, and the herbs of the field there is no help. Their time has come, and die they must. It is otherwise with man. For him the means of reinvigoration have been provided by skill and science. To recruit his exhausted energies and fortify himself against the disorders generated by the sudden depression of temperature and the unwholesome exhalations of autumn, let him tone his nervous system, invigorate his digestion, and give edge to his appetite with HORTKOTTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. He may then face the morbid influences of the season fearlessly. The chilling night dews and heavy morning mists will have no power to make him shiver and burn, to affect his liver, to disorder his stomach or his bowels, to rack his joints with rheumatism, or to render any latent element of disease in his system active or dangerous. To the sufferer from general debility, whether constitutional or arising from other causes, this potent vegetable specific is especially recommended. As it is to be remembered that physical weakness opens the door to all maladies. Vigor is the chief defense of the human structure against all causes of disease, and HORTKOTTER'S BITTERS may be truly pronounced the safest and surest of all invigorants. It is the most genial of all vegetable tonics, and is admirably adapted to the wants and weaknesses of the more delicate sex, as well as to the ailments of men.
